

A Word on Teamwork & Judgment

You cannot go it alone. To accomplish a task we need a team. For my hopes and dreams to come to fruition I need a supportive group of people or team that will help me.

I see God placed people in my life to help me and lift me up to support me. I see the work being done behind the scene; and so I take this and build a good support system (a team) and I am at work, namely, teamwork.

I use good judgment to discern whether I am living a lie or I am living what I was created to be. To make and accept decisions and to humble myself when I am wrong.

I built a team namely people who support me, people who I will work with to accomplish my goals, the employer's or community's goals. Shining Light community is part of my team.

When I get out of prison, the community I will be released to is going to be my team.

The people by God's providence who support me emotionally & morally is my team.

It takes trust, positivity, sanity, resolve, and teamwork for a task. I use good judgment to accomplish this.

Thank You FOR READING!

Below are some questions to reflect on from this piece. Feel free to also use one as a conversation starter with a fellow reader, or even a loved one on the outside!

Noel writes that he relies on good judgment to discern whether "I am living what I was created to be." When are some times when you feel like YOU are living the life you were created to live?

Who in your life makes this possible?

Who are the people who, in Noel's words, "support [you] emotionally and morally"?

We'd love to hear what you thought of the piece, or if you've had any meaningful conversations as a result. Or perhaps you'd like to share an expression of your own (visual art or creative writing). You are always welcome to write to us at Shining Light at P.O. Box 267, Annville, PA 17003.
